Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 23 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright start, rain spreading northeast in afternoon.

Today:
The Northern Isles look dry with sunny spells throughout. Elsewhere a bright morning with sunny spells and showers, however increasing cloud brings outbreaks of occasionally heavy rain northeast to all but the north and northeast this afternoon. Freshening southerly winds.

Tonight:
Northern Isles remain dry with late sunny then clear spells. Elsewhere cloud and occasionally heavy rain continue to edge northeast overnight, with clearer conditions following to the southwest. Breezy.

Monday:
Central Belt northwards, cloudy with outbreaks of rain, heaviest and most persistent across northern and eastern hills with occasionally strong northeasterly winds. Brighter in south with showers and lighter winds.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Sunny spells and showers Tuesday and Wednesday, some longer spells of rain in east, best of the sun in west, with easing northerly winds. Thursday, mainly dry with light winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.